

May 29, 1996

Dennis Kobray
77 Locust Avenue
Millburn, New Jersey 07041

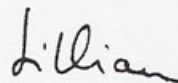

Dear Dennis:

Thank you so much for your delightful colloquium on Bach this semester. The way you were able to combine both live and taped performances of some very well-known pieces with the context in which they were written added a whole new dimension of enjoyment and appreciation. I was also impressed by your ability to keep such a large group totally engrossed, all the more so since the audience was very diverse in terms of both ages and musical sophistication. Enclosed are two papers demonstrating how much Honors students gained from your program.

I look forward to your returning this fall to share your musicological insights with some of our classes, and hope this can help pave the way for more presentations to college students. Please keep me posted as to the arrangements you make with Professor Porter and his colleagues, so that small groups of outsiders can perhaps listen in.

Best wishes for a wonderful summer to you and your family.

Sincerely,

Lillian Robbins

LR/cam
Enclosure

cc: David Hosford
Lisa Hull
Annette Iuliano